RISK ASSESSMENT TO IMPARTIALITY

Prepared By: Top Management team (S. Nyambi, T. Maponya & N Msibi)	Date compiled: 19.08.2025				Template review date: 19.08.2029	Rev: 00	Doc number: ASRI 4.2-001

Identified Risk	Causes of the risk	Existing controls	Responsible person	What are the consequences	Existing controls	Responsible person	Tasks to improve control effectiveness
1. Lack of feedback	Clients do not stick to the timelines outlined for the submission of results, ignore calls and emails and only submit results after closing date.	Setting communication reminders to ensure that clients send results on time.	N Msibi	Internal undue pressure in the sense that insufficient time is reserved to thoroughly assess and compile reports.	Revise the instruction of the PT participation form to include the consquences of sending results after the closing date.	N Msibi	Set reminder on calender for the 19th to remind participants to send results by the 25th. Communicate through email and whatsapp
				Give rise to inaccurate reports compiled as there is not enough time to thouroughly	There is an internal grace period for clients, from 25-27 of each month. This gives them an additional 2 days to submit their results.
				We cannot meet the deadlines, thus KPI's become affected.
2, Financial risks/Commercial pressure	Financial dependance from a single client	Managing director to setup a fund to combat such a risk when	N Msibi	The lab runs a risk of financial jeorpardy if the relationship with this client is	Maintain a healthy and proffesional relationships with clients	N Msibi
	Incentives for faster results			The lab might give favours to certain clients to release results at the client's request.	authorised prior to distribution to the participants
	Offer internal staff money/incentives in exchange for PT results	can be used for business relations with clients instead of personal numbers.		Afftect the integrity of the whole PT scheme.	Afftect the integrity of the whole PT scheme.
	job security	Upper management to seek out more work		Retrenchments, liquidation, strikes	Retrenchments, liquidation, strikes
Management influence	Senior staff or management might exert pressure on personnel to achieve a specific results/deadlines, maybe to please a client or maintain a contract.	To establish an ethics policy	N Msibi	Compromises the integrity of the running of the scheme/lab.		N Msibi
Dual Roles	If the same person is doing the test and approving the results.	All the results are authorized by the operations manager who is not part of the production	N Msibi	There's a risk of bias, thus influencing the outcome.	Personnel involved in the production process should not handle the approval of results	N Msibi
	Lack of personnel			Undue pressure, juggling multiple roles at the same time which could affect the overall performance of individual involved.
	Ineffective or inadequate training of personnel
Methodological risks	Choosing the incorrect methods for a specific test/parameter.	All methods are derived from the ISO standards(Except Quick Ash)	S Nyambi	Introduce errors into measurements/analysis, which in turn will affect the reliability of results.	To use methods that are internationally approved(ISO Standards) giving recognision to Quick Ash as a lab developed procedure.	N Msibi
	Poor communication and oversight	All communications on any changes to methods or procedures to be relayed via	T Maponya	Can lead to deviations in established procedures which would increase the likelihood of errors.
	Lack of documented procedures and controls.	Derive checklists to document every procedure done and controls put in place	S Nyambi	Wiithout clear and documented procedures, it is difficult to ensure consistency and objectivity in testing.
Remuneration	Desatisfaction with regards to the salary package	which will including reviewing of salaries. Open communication lines with managing director to enable a discussion of the issues	N Msibi	Lack of performance	Appraisal meetings to be conducted at least once a year.	N Msibi

