Criteria for determining the assigned value and evaluation of PT

The assigned value is determined from the consensus mean of PT, the associated uncertainties are determined and added to the certified reference material certificate.

Z-scores evaluation criteria:

- A z-score that lies between +1 and -1 is deemed acceptable.
- A z-score that lies between +2 and -2 is deemed satisfactory.
- A z-score that lies between +2/+3 and -2/-3 is questionable.
- A z-score >3/<-3 is unsatisfactory (outlier).

Each participant is allocated a random unique number for the program to enable total confidentiality of results. Participants are strictly prohibited from exchanging results or comparing data with other laboratories during the study. This measure ensures the integrity and independence of the performance evaluation. Collusion or collaborative data sharing undermines the objectives of ISO 33405.

Critical timelines

Distribution of samples : No later than 10th of every month
Submission of results : No later than 25th of every month
Feedback report to participants : No later than 05th of every month
