Problem Statement: The CAB has claimed conformity to the ISO 17025 Standard requirements for the following Test method whilst lab is still not yet accredited.

Why 1: Why did the lab claim conformity to the ISO 17025 even though the lab isn't yet accredited?

The lab did not intend to claim conformity to ISO 17025 or accreditation to ISO 17025 but it meant that the QMS was drafted in such a way that it reflected the guidelines of ISO 17025.

After

	Statement of Conformity (defining the scope of lab activities)
AzurESky	Document no: ASMF5.3
	Compiled by:	Sifiso Nyambi – Laboratory Manager
	Approved by:	Nonhlanhla Msibi - Operations Manager

NB: This document serves to replace statement of conformity Document no : ASMF5.3. rev 00. The reason for the redraft is to address the issue of the CAB claiming ISO 17025 accreditation when the lab is not yet accredited.

1. Purpose

This procedure defines and documents the range of laboratory activities performed by Azuresky (Pty) Ltd and identifies which activities are conducted in-house and which are externally provided. This document ensures transparency of laboratory operations and prevents misrepresentation of accreditation status.

2. Status of the Laboratory

Azuresky (Pty) Ltd is currently implementing a management system aligned with the requirements of ISO/IEC 17025:2017, ISO/IEC 17034:2016 and ISO/IEC 17043:2023.
The laboratory is not accredited by SANAS or any other accreditation body at this stage.
No claim of accreditation or accredited scope is made in this document or in any laboratory reports, marketing material, or official communications.

3. Location of Activities

All in-house laboratory activities are conducted at:
Unit 3, 17 Makriel Road, Wadeville, Germiston, 1428.

4. In-House Laboratory Activities
